LICENCE FOR GEOVS TECHNOLOGY

SRT is pleased to announce that it has signed a licence deal for the use of its GeoVS 3D visualisation software. The software will be used to enhance maritime domain awareness at a strategically important commercial infrastructure installation. The deal is worth £145,000 over the first year, comprising fees for licensing and customisation, with further support licence fees payable thereafter.

Simon Tucker, CEO of SRT said: “Having acquired GeoVS only three months ago, I am delighted to be announcing our first commercial deal which signals the commencement of a new income stream for SRT.”
